MSU on the Internet
John Kreger returns for his 10th season as the voice of Michigan State volleyball. Kreger provides radio broadcasts for the Spartans via msuspartans.com for home contests. In addition to broadcasting MSU volleyball, he has also spent time as the play-by-play voice for women's basketball and served as a post-game show host for men's basketball. In 2008, Kreger was honored as the top volleyball broadcaster in the nation by the AVCA.

In addition to his duties with the Michigan State athletics, Kreger is an accomplished sports radio engineer and producer. He currently is a reporter and producer for Sports Radio 1130 WDFN in Detroit. He also serves as an engineer for visiting sports teams that compete in the Detroit market and covers the Detroit Lions for ESPN radio and ESPN News, as well as CBS Sports. His career highlights include working the 2005 Major League Baseball All-Star Week for ESPN Radio, the 2005 NBA Finals and the 2006 American League Championship Series. Spartan Nation - We Are One Playing volleyball at Michigan State means that you become more than just a member of a team; you become a member of one of the largest and most supportive families in all of collegiate athletics. With thousands of screaming fans supporting Spartan volleyball, becoming a member of Spartan Nation is truly an experience that rates next to nothing. At Michigan State, the support for Spartan athletics is seen throughout the community and the state of Michigan.

One of the finest volleyball experiences in the nation.

Over the past several season, MSU volleyball has seen waves of fans attend each of its matches. In fact, MSU set the program single-match attendance record in 2008 as the team clashed with in-state rival Michigan at the Breslin Center. Fans packed the lower bowl of one of the most storied arenas in the nation as 5,335 watched and cheered their Spartans to a four-set victory over the No. 21 Wolverines. At one point, with the match on the line, the raucous crowd even prompted Big Ten Network play-by-play announcer Randy Reihart to say that the boisterous crowd of 5,000 fans "sounded more like 50,000 fans" as the Spartans made their winning rally in the fourth set.

That is the support that one can expect to see while competing at Michigan State. The Spartans ranked eighth in the nation in attendance last season as 36,419 fans filled Jenison Field House and the Breslin Center during the team's 14 home matches. MSU saw its national attendance ranking elevate from 23rd to eighth at the conclusion of the 2008 season from 2007, the biggest jump nationally in that span with the exception of Wichita State.

MSU saw support from its fans all season long last year. Huge crowds packed Jenison and Breslin throughout the season. Eight crowds eclipsed the 3,000-fan mark and the Spartans saw a total of 9,017 fans walk through the door during the "Bust Breslin" weekend, which remarkably was not their highest weekend total of the season. That mark came in September when the Spartans played host to Milwaukee, Florida A&M and UConn in the fifth annual MSU Showcase. During the two-day event, 10,495 fans attended the three MSU matches, averaging nearly 3,500 fans per match, helping the Spartans claim their fifth-consecutive MSU Showcase title.

Fans also came out in masses during several other weekend series, including in the Spartans' first home series of November. In two matches against Penn State and Indiana, 6,152 fans came out to support their Spartans as they made a run at a possible NCAA Tournament berth.

"Playing in front of thousands of fans that know the game and support us every match is why I chose MSU."

Fans from The Block Party, Side Out Club and Building Blocks fill the stands each night. The Block Party - the official student cheering section for the MSU volleyball program - has been a consistent presence at MSU volleyball matches since George took over the program. The students, who generate a tremendous amount of energy and noise, can single handedly change the feeling of a match. They add a force that can intimidate opponents and help their Spartans at all costs.

The Side Out Club is always on hand to cheer on their Spartans as well. As the official booster club of MSU volleyball, the Side Out Club helps in all fundraising efforts for the team and is a large reason for the success of the Spartan volleyball program.

All of these different people and organizations combine to form Spartan Nation. Each part has helped MSU volleyball grow to where it is today, and all will likely have a large impact on where the program is headed.

Spartans in the Community

MSU volleyball strives to make a connection with it's community.

Although winning on the court is always one of the top priorities for the Michigan State volleyball team, the Spartans spend plenty of time in the community that has provided them with unrivaled support throughout the years. During George's tenure MSU has been very active in the community. The Spartans held volleyball clinics at local middle schools, read to classrooms full of children and made appearances at many community service functions.

Many of the team members participated in the "Teams for Toys" program (left), which provides less-fortunate families with presents during the holidays. At MSU, student-athletes work closely with the office of Student Athlete Support Services (SASS). The SASS office helps the entire athletic department fulfill its mission statement, by gathering and engaging the community in the student-athlete's quest for excellence.

In 2008, the MSU volleyball team raised close to $2,000 for the MSU Pediatric and Adolescent Hematology/Oncology Clinic during a silent auction in which the team offered pairs of pink Nike Volleyball shoes. 13 pairs of shoes sold for a total of $1,338, while nearly $600 was raised in straight donations at the event that spanned four home matches.

The Spartans also take part in an event that is spearheaded by head coach Cathy George. George and the volleyball team join with End Violent Encounters (EVE) to play in the Golf "Fore" an End to Domestic Violence Charity Golf Outing, held at Timber Ridge Golf Club.

The Spartans also appeared at Grand Ledge Junior High School to teach children about the basics of volleyball and promote the sport to young adults around the area. Over 250 children and teens came out to interact with members of the team and get a real coaching lesson from Coach George. The children played games and learned all about volleyball from some of the best teachers in the area.

The team also appears at local malls and shopping centers to sign autographs for each of their fans, drawing crowds of hundreds.

At Michigan State, members of the volleyball team are more than athletes, they are engaged in the community and get a chance to interact with the fans and public that help them in their pursuit of excellence, both on and off the court.

In the National Spotlight

Spartan Volleyball is seen and heard throughout the country.

Michigan State volleyball has lived up to the slogan of it's conference partner; Big Life, Big Stage, Big Ten. The Spartans have indeed been seen on a Big Stage since Cathy George took over the program. Aside from attention from the local media, MSU has been seen throughout the nation.

Since George took over the program, MSU has appeared on national television 30 times, including appearances on ESPN, ESPN 2, ESPNU and Comcast. The Spartans appeared on ESPN2 last season as Hall of Famer and volleyball great Karch Kiraly provided the color commentary for the Spartans' clash at Minnesota.

Along with attention from the national media outlets, MSU volleyball receives great press coverage from the local media. The Lansing State Journal, The State News and all three local television networks - WILX, WLNS and WLAJ - consistently spotlight Spartan volleyball. George is featured in a weekly press conference and players are made available to the media before practice on certain days.

Not only are the Spartans covered in the local media, but MSUSpartans.com - the athletic department's official website - is one of the nation's leaders in new media. Fans and parents can keep track of the most up-to-date volleyball news with highlight videos, press conference videos, photo galleries, podcasts, news releases and match-by-match previews and recaps. Live video and audio are also available on the school's official website. As one of the nation's best websites, www.msuspartans.com is the best way to stay connected with MSU volleyball. Assistant head coach Mike Gawlik also runs his own Twitter page, which is linked to MSUSpartans.com. For more information about complete media coverage and MSU volleyball, be sure to look at MSUSpartans.com.

"The Big Ten Network does a great job of showcasing the quality of volleyball that is being played in the Big Ten. We are fortunate to be on there a lot, so fans all over can follow what we are doing."

Volleyball is a mainstay on the Big Ten Network during the fall schedule. At least two games a week are aired live, including one every Wednesday. The Spartans, along with their appearances on the ESPN family of networks, have been regulars on the Big Ten Network.

The Spartans were the featured game on Big Ten Network twice last season, including their win over Michigan at the Breslin Center. The Spartans were also featured on the network during their visit to Penn State. The Big Ten Women's Show also featured the Spartans numerous times in 2008

Inside the eight Big Ten states, the network is available on the expanded basic level of service with the exception of the Philadelphia area, where it is available on a digital level of service.

Outside the eight states, cable operators can make the network available on any level of service. Check with your local system office to determine whether it plans to make the network available in your area.

Last fall, the Big Ten Network became the first new network in cable or satellite television history to reach 30 million subscribers within its first 30 days.

The Big Ten Network was created to provide the conference with more national exposure for Big Ten sports while enhancing its existing television agreements with ABC/ESPN and CBS.

The conference wanted to be able to continue playing its games on Saturdays versus moving some games to Thursday nights, control more fully the advertising environment in which its games were aired (the network accepts no alcohol or gambling advertising) and greatly increase exposure for women's sports and other NCAA sports that had not previously been widely televised.

Heading into it's third full season, the Big Ten Network is the conferences' partner in broadcasting everything that is Big Ten athletics. The Big Ten Network provides coverage and complete inside access to all of the Big Ten programs.

The network launched on August 30, 2007, and is on the air 24 hours per day, 365 days per year.

The Big Ten Network is a joint venture between subsidiaries of the Big Ten Conference and Fox Cable Networks. Fox has a proven track record of successfully launching other networks.

Michigan State is one of the few volleyball programs in the Big Ten Conference to have a radio personality to call each home match. Fans, parents and student-athletes can log onto www.msuspartans.com to hear every home broadcast throughout the season. In addition to live radio, each home match is streamed live online so that people around the nation can follow Spartan volleyball.

The voice of Spartan volleyball, John Kreger, a former MSU Spartan himself, will begin his 10th year with the team in 2010. Kreger, a self-confessed volleyball fanatic, got his start under former head coach Chuck Erbe and has been one of the Big Ten's top radio personalities for almost a decade. In fact, the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) recognized Kreger as the top radio personality in collegiate volleyball in 2008.

His broadcasts feature one-on-one interviews with the coaching staff, opposing coaches and "Chalk Talk" with head coach Cathy George. Kreger is the only personality in the conference that talks with opposing coaches.

Each week, Kreger takes time to sit down with one member of the team for his "Spotlight on the Spartans" segment, in which he introduces his audience to the each of the players in an off-the-court and one-on-one setting. "Spotlight on the Spartans" airs at intermission during each match.

Aside from his duties as the play-by-play broadcaster for Spartan Volleyball, Kreger, a Plymouth, Mich. native, is a producer and reporter for Sports Radio 1130 WDFN in Detroit. He covers Detroit sports for national radio and television as well. He also follows the Red Wings, Tigers and Pistons for Fox Sports Radio and Sporting News Radio. Kreger has also covered the Detroit Lions for the ESPN family of networks, including ESPN Radio and ESPNNews. Kreger recently added Detroit Lions beat reporter for CBSSportsline.com to his resume. He has also served as the play-by-play voice for the Michigan High School Athletic Association State Hockey Championships. His experience with professional sports makes him a complete asset to the volleyball program. He is currently the third-longest tenured broadcaster in the Big Ten.

The Spartans have been a perennial power on the national scene for the better part of the last two decades. In fact, MSU has qualified for the NCAA Tournament in two of the past three seasons and has been dancing 12 times since 1994, including six times this decade. In the Spartan's last appearance in 2007, the duo of All-American Ashley Schatzle and Katie Johnson, led the Spartans all the way to the Regional Semifinals, before a five-set loss to No. 1 and eventual national runner-up Nebraska.

In all, MSU has compiled 12-12 overall record in the NCAA Tournament, including a National Semifinal run in 1995. The Spartans have been out of the first round of the tournament in eight of their 12 appearances. In fact, MSU has made it to the Regional Semifinals four times since 1995.

In 2007, the Spartans' Regional Semifinals run captivated the community and rallied support in both Dayton, Ohio and Madison, Wis. In the regional at Dayton, the Spartans squared off against the 33-1 Flyers on their home floor. Despite being four hours from East Lansing, the Spartans saw unrivaled support from their fans. That support helped MSU top Dayton, 3-0, silencing the home-town Dayton fans.

The support from the community continued during the next weekend when the Spartans traveled to Madison, Wis., for the Regional Semifinals. Along with the Spartan Marching Band, hundreds of Spartan fans made the trek to Madison to cheer on their team. In fact, the Wisconsin Field House, one of the most intimidating volleyball venues in the nation, became a second home for the Spartans. The support from the crowd helped MSU build a 2-0 advantage over No. 1 Nebraska, before falling, 3-2, to the eventual national runner-up.

The 1995 season was the Spartans' most memorable tournament run. In that year MSU - led by Courtney DeBolt, Val Sterk and Dana Cooke - advanced all the way to the Final Four, defeating some of the top names in NCAA Volleyball along the way, including a five-set win over Hawai'i on its home court.

The Spartans, who were Big Ten Champions that season, swept their way through the first two rounds, defeating both BYU and San Diego State, setting up a match against Hawaii. Despite losing the first two sets, the Spartans rallied to win the next three sets, advancing to the program's first-ever Final Four.

MSU returned home that night to hundreds of fans at Capitol Regional Airport, honoring the Spartans' accomplishments.

Jenison Field House

Spartan volleyball plays in one of the most storied buildings in the Big Ten.

The Michigan State volleyball team has played all of its home matches in historic Jenison Field House since 1993. Built in 1940, Jenison was the home of Spartan basketball until 1989 and is where Magic Johnson helped lead Michigan State to its first NCAA Championship in 1979.

Jenison, which is currently the home to the main Spartan athletic department administrative offices, as well as MSU volleyball, women's gymnastics, wrestling and men's and women's track & field, underwent extensive renovations in 2001. The volleyball facilities were improved to include a large new locker room, an expanded training room, a larger weight room and an improved equipment room. The building also houses locker rooms for baseball, women's crew, field hockey, soccer and softball.

Each year, Jenison Field House plays host to one of collegiate volleyball's finest tournaments, the MSU Showcase, which is now in its seventh season. The Spartans won their sixth-straight MSU Showcase last season after topping then-No. 12 USC, Albany and North Carolina. This year, the Spartans will host two tournaments - the MSU Showcase and the Spartan Invitational. The Green and White will open the season with the Showcase when they welcome Bowling Green, IUPUI and Evansville. The Invitational will boast the lineup of Clemson, Eastern Illinois and Eastern Michigan in September.

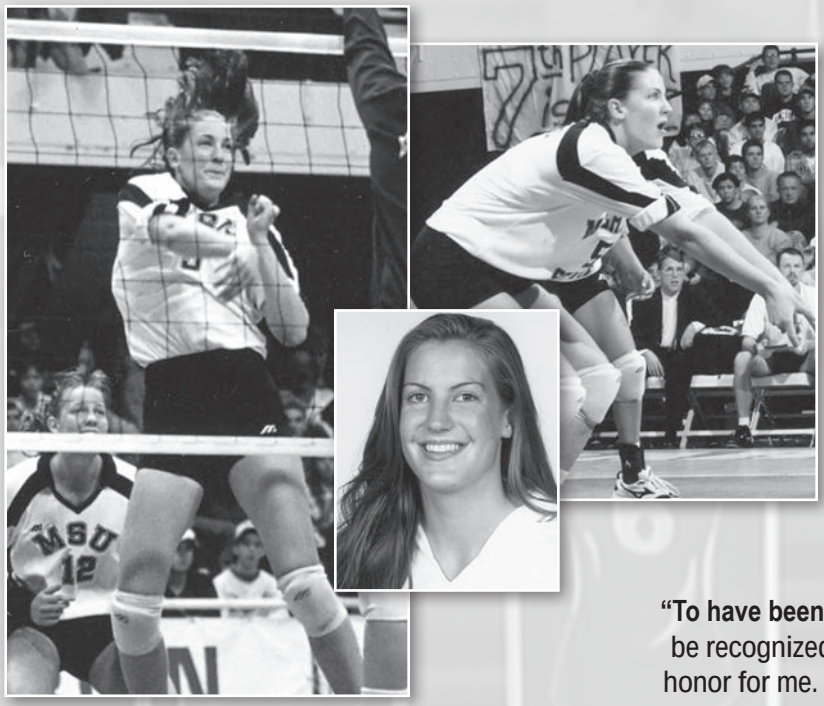
The Spartans have had seven All-American since 1995.



Dana Cooke
First Team AVCA All-American • 1995
Asics Honorable Mention • 1996

Dana Cooke is arguably one of the most celebrated members of the Michigan State volleyball program. Cooke led her team to the NCAA National Semifinal in 1995 and was a member of three NCAA Tournament teams (1994-96). Cooke has played in the fifth-most matches in program history (132) and third-most sets (460). During her time, Cooke compiled 87 solo blocks and 494 block assists, which totals 581 total blocks, ranking second all time at Michigan State. She added 1,245 digs and 149 service aces to her ledger, which both rank in the top 10 in program history at fourth and sixth, respectively. Cooke holds the MSU single season record in both total blocks (191) and block assists (163), set during her senior season in 1996.

"To have been one of the first in MSU's volleyball program history to be recognized as an All-American was nothing short of an ultimate honor for me. I really feel like I helped to build a legacy, one that we set out as a team to achieve and it couldn't have been accomplished without great teammates and a dedicated staff that shared the same vision, commitment and sacrifice."

-Former Spartan Dana Cooke

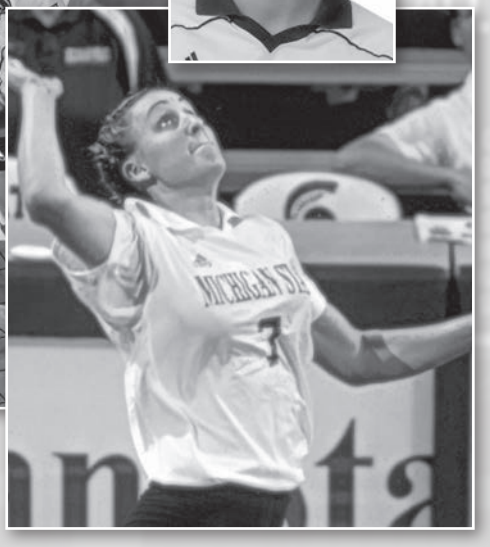
Val Sterk
First Team AVCA All-American • 1995, 96
Asics First Team • 1996
Asics Second Team • 1995

Val Sterk was another vital component of the dominant Spartan teams of the mid-90s. Sterk is the only Spartan to land on four separate All-America lists, highlighted by first team AVCA honors in 1995 and 1996. In 1996, Sterk set the single season program record by hitting an eye-popping .449 while totalling 502 kills, the 10th-best single season kill total in program history. In fact, Sterk led the nation in hitting percentage that season. During her four seasons at Michigan State, Sterk hit .379, which ranks her at the top of the MSU career list by .064. Her 1,518 career kills also rank her sixth in program history, making her one of only three players in Michigan State history to rank in the top 10 in both statistical categories.

Jenna Wrobel
First Team AVCA All-American • 1998
Asics Freshman All-American • 1995

Jenna Wrobel currently holds the MSU career kills record (2,292) and occupies the top two single season kill totals in program history, amassing 641 in 1998 and 671 in 1997. In 1998, the year in which she was selected as a first team AVCA All-American, Wrobel led the nation in kills per set with 5.94. She leads virtually every career kill and attempts career record at Michigan State and her 1997 and 1998 campaigns rank as some of the greatest single season offensive seasons in program history. She averaged more than 5.00 kills per set in both 1997 and 1998 and is one of only two players in school history to average more than 5.00 kills per set in a single season, doing so twice. Her 1,544 attempts in 1997 are also a school record.



Erin Hartley
Second Team AVCA All-American • 2001
Asics Honorable Mention • 2001

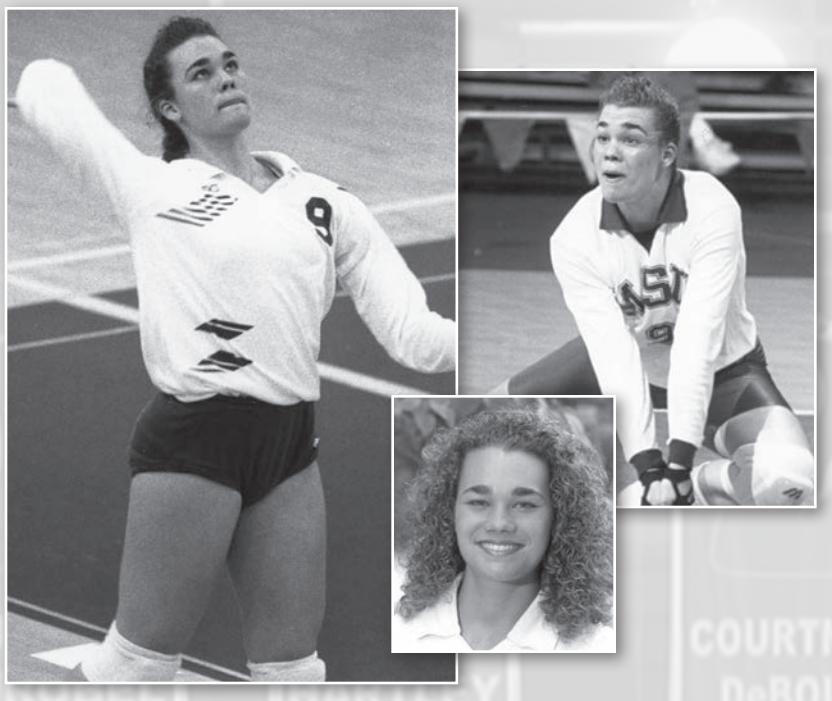
Erin Hartley had one of the finest seasons in a Spartan uniform during the 2001 season, garnering second team AVCA All-America honors and honorable mention Asics All-America accolades. During 2001, Hartley totaled 412 kills while hitting .337, a hitting percentage that ranks as the seventh-best single-season mark in program history. Hartley amassed 1,508 total kills in her four years at Michigan State, placing her seventh on the all-time career list. Her 3,649 career attempts rank her sixth all-time at Michigan State. Hartley averaged 3.57 kills per set during her career which ranks her seventh all-time as well. She was also a first team All-Big Ten selection in 2001 and was honorable mention All-Big Ten during her junior season in 2000. She was also a three-time Academic All-Big Ten selection.

Ashley Schatzle
Third Team AVCA All-American • 2007

Ashley Schatzle is the most recent Spartan to have earned All-America honors, doing so in 2007. Schatzle led the team and was third in the Big Ten with 553 kills (4.53 per game), which is the fifth most by a Spartan in a single-season. She posted 20 double-doubles on the season and ended the year with a string of 21-straight double-digit kill efforts. Schatzle was also second on the team with 365 digs (2.99 per game). In only three seasons in Green and White, she finished her career in eighth all-time with 1,419 kills and fifth with a 4.16 kills per game average. The senior tri-captain helped the Spartans to a 21-14 overall record and a trip to NCAA Tournament Regional Semifinal.

Spartan All-Americans

The Spartans have had seven All-American since 1995.



Courtney DeBolt

Honorable Mention Asics All-American • 1995

Courtney DeBolt was another key piece of the 1995 team that advanced all the way to the NCAA National Semifinal and is one of the most well-recognized names in MSU volleyball history. In fact, despite being on a team that featured two additional All-Americans - Dana Cooke and Jenna Wrobel - DeBolt was voted as the team's most valuable player in 1995 as she anchored one of the nation's top offensive attacks from the setter spot. DeBolt ranks third on the MSU all-time career assists list with 3,773 and her 9.32 per set ranks ninth all-time. During 1995, DeBolt passed out 1,450 assists while averaging 13.43 assists per set, which is the third-best single season total in MSU volleyball history. DeBolt was also an All-Big Ten Honorable Mention honoree in 1995.

Kim Schram

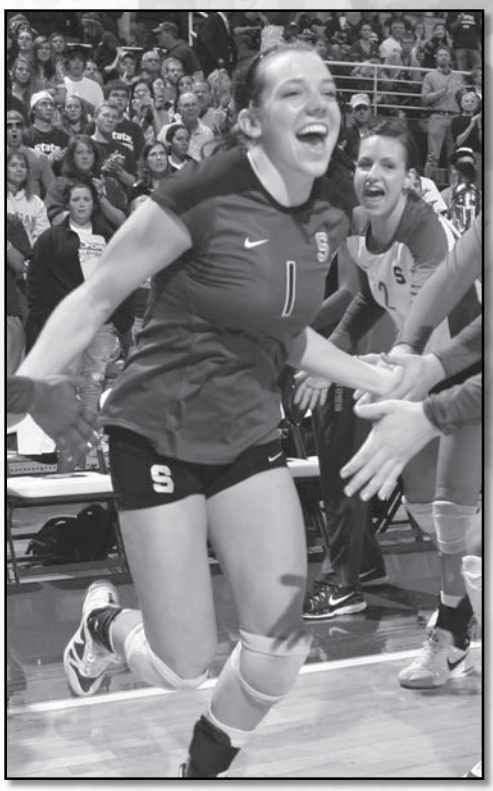
Honorable Mention AVCA All-American • 2003

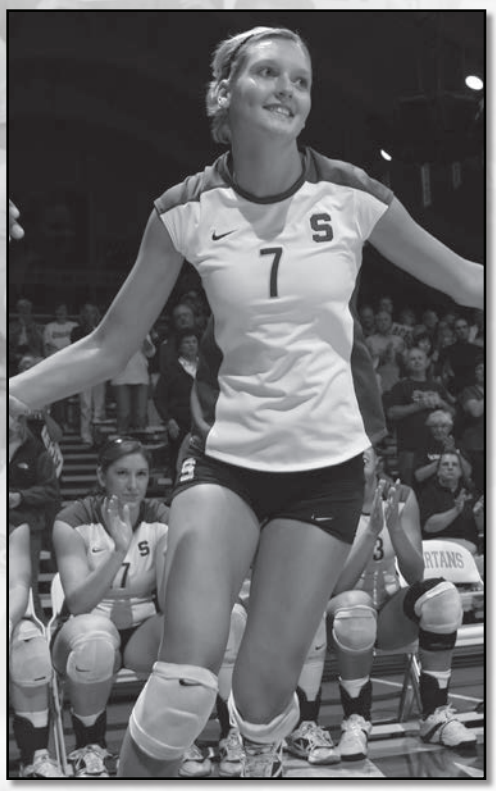
Kim Schram was an honorable mention AVCA All-American in 2003 after posting 12 20-kill efforts in 2003, the most in a single season by any Spartan at the time. In addition to her All-America honors in 2003, Schram was an All-Midwest Region selection, All-Big Ten honoree and a member of the All-Big Ten academic team. Schram ranks fourth all-time at Michigan State with 1,816 kills during her career and her 558 in 2003 is the fourth-best single-season total in program history. Her 1,318 attempts that season is the sixth-best single season total while her 4,367 career attempts ranks fourth all-time.

Kyndra Abron

Honorable Mention AVCA All-American • 2009

Kyndra Abron became MSU's first sophomore All-America honoree in 2009. Along with her All-America recognition, Abron also earned All-Midwest Region and First-Team All-Big Ten honors. Over the course of the year, Abron tallied 267 kills, amassing double-digit figures on 15 different occasions. Abron led the Spartans throughout the year at the net, tallying 11 block solos along with 60 assists. In conference play, Abron led MSU with an average of 2.81 kills per set.





Meet the Spartans

2010 Outlook

With head coach Cathy George now in her sixth season at the reins of the Michigan State volleyball program and the return of all but two starters, the Green and White are poised for a break-out season.

Although they advanced to their third NCAA Tournament appearance in the last four seasons in 2009, the Spartans have a sour taste in their mouths as they struggled down the stretch a year ago. MSU looks to use that experience to power through the annual rigors of the Big Ten Conference in 2010.

"Being bounced in the first round of the NCAA Tournament has really driven the team for this coming season," said George. "This offseason our team has been extremely dedicated and has taken the necessary ownership to drive our team to its highest potential.

"With a majority of our team now upperclassmen, we feel we are making greater strides in our overall development. Due to our maturation, we have improved in every area throughout the offseason and summer. Through working hard, our team has improved our skill, poise, as well our overall maturity. This has had a dramatic effect on our learning curve. With the addition of only two freshmen, we look for this preseason to be more focused on team concepts rather than the individual training we've needed over the past two years."

Outside Hitter

With three starting outside hitters returning from the 2009 roster, the Spartans look to be strong at the pins. In addition, Amy Dentlinger and Natalie Emro have had strong outings which have the coaching staff excited with the additional options.

Senior Megan Schatzle led the Spartans with 326 total kills, averaging 2.96 kills per set in 2009.

"Megan has a whippy arm and has great range," said George. "It has been nice to watch her progress throughout the years as she has become a force within the Big Ten. There are times that she has been able to take over a game with her abilities and we look for her to carry a bigger load in 2010."

Junior Kyndra Abron became MSU's first sophomore All-America honoree when she was tabbed as an AVCA Honorable Mention selection. Abron led the team at the net as she recorded a team-high 11 block solos, eight of which occurred within the conference. Abron also boasted a team-best 2.81 kills per set in conference matches on 197 kills, earning her First-Team All-Big Ten honors.

Megan Schatzle

"The first thing everyone thinks of is her power. Her power is unparalleled across the nation," said George. "Not many people can handle her attacks. She is able to be effective offensively even when teams are trying to get her out of system."

Junior Becca Zlabis provides the Spartans stability with her ability to play all six rotations well. The Wheaton, Ill., native, led the team in kills (209) and was second on the team in digs (159) during conference matches. She was consistently in the MSU lineup as she was one of three players to appear in all 20 conference matches.

"Becca is silently effective," said George. "Becca quietly goes about her business and once you look at her stat sheet you realize she has had a positive effect on every statistical category. When it gets down to it, the numbers speak for themselves and she is always putting balls away. She's a primary passer and has been so since the day she stepped on campus. Her natural touch on the ball seems effortless. Becca does everything well."

Sophomore Amy Dentlinger looks to solidify the outside and right side hitting positions as she provides some valuable depth. Amy's power and conscientious attitude makes her invaluable to the team. Because she has done everything asked of her, she has put herself in a position to get ample playing time this year. In six sets in 2009, Dentlinger tallied six kills along with one dig and block assist.

"Our offensive strength will come from every position this year. We have strong right sides and left sides this season," said George. "Natalie Emro has established herself as a dominant attacker this spring and has given us the opportunity to run a 6-2 offense, if needed. I feel our depth at our hitting positions are stronger than we have had in our tenure here at Michigan State."

Middle Blocker

Red-shirt junior Jenilee Rathje is slated to move back to the middle after seeing some action there her freshman season. Her athleticism will allow the Spartans to tailor their offense to the opposing team as she boasts one of the largest vertical leaps on the team.

"Jenilee had an incredibly strong spring and really took to the middle blocker position," said George. "Our setters were able to utilize her 10-5 1/2 leaping ability and get the ball to her at a high point. She is now able to use her strengths and is becoming an overwhelming power. Jenilee has the same standing reach as a player who is closer to 6-1 or 6-2 in height."

Red-shirt freshman Alexis Mathews hopes to use the experience she gained last season as a redshirt to help make a solid impact in the everyday Spartan lineup. Although Mathews did not see action during the fall, she certainly impressed the coaching staff in the spring with how quickly she transitioned into the collegiate game. Mathews is the tallest player on the MSU roster at 6-4.

"The more she plays, the better she gets," said George. "Her blocking is a force to be reckoned with. She has those arms that just go on for days with a 10-7 touch, she is hard to hit around. She has the ability to go over blockers and physically is able to dominate the opponent."

The 2010 Miss Volleyball finalist for the state of Michigan, freshman Kelsey Kuipers, will look to fill the void of two graduating middle blockers in 2009. Last year, Kuipers led her high school in kills with 540, while posting a .319 attack percentage. The multi-sport standout captured the 2010 Michigan High School Athletic Association Division II high jump crown after clearing 1.67m (5-6). Kuipers also finished third in the long jump and eighth in the 200-meter to finish up her high school career with three state finishes in 2010.

"I am very encouraged by the progress thus far in Alexis Mathews and the athleticism in our incoming recruit Kelsey Kuipers," said George. "We look to both of them to fill the void in one of the two graduating senior middles."

Libero/Defensive Specialist

Senior Allyson Karaba has served as the starting libero for the Green and White for the past two seasons. Karaba adds a sense of leadership and tenacity while on the court. Karaba has led the team in digs the past two seasons to rank second and third in single season dig totals, including 518 in 2008 and 515 in 2009. Karaba currently ranks second all-time in career digs-per-set with 3.78.

Junior Carli Weiler tallied a career-best 209 digs in 2009 to rank third on the team. Weiler, who appeared in all but two sets last year, will look to help anchor the last line of defense for the Spartans with her never-give-up attitude. Weiler also gives the Green and White a serving presence as she tallied the third most aces last year with 13.

"Carli and Ally are both very good defenders and passers," said George. "They both bring different strengths to the table, but they are both very good. Ally has played in the libero role quite extensively the past two seasons. Carli has been improving her game in some of her weaker areas this past spring. We are going to take a hard look at both of them, and the decision boils down to who compliments our team the best at that given time. It's nice to be able to have the flexibility in that position."

Red-shirt sophomore Mandi Karaba will use the experience in 2009 to help assist in the back row. Mandi Karaba will look to see more time on the court this season, and improve upon her 40 digs last year.

Becca Zlabis

"Mandi is a fierce competitor," said George. "It doesn't matter what we are doing, she is always very intense. We have worked on a couple aspects of her game this spring that we felt needed to be enhanced and she has made great strides. We will look for Mandi to bring that energy she has to the court. Her competitiveness and vocal prowess is very strong."

Setter

For junior Natalie Emro, consistency has always allowed her to standout among the rest of the league as she has started in 64 straight matches since arriving on campus. In 2009, Emro led the team for the second-straight year with 1,299 total assists, 787 of which occurred in conference matches. Emro ended her sophomore campaign ranked fifth in the Big Ten with a 10.64 assists per set average.

"Natalie possesses the ability to both hit and set at a high level," said George. "Her athleticism sets her apart from most setters nationally."

Senior Nicole Peter, who was hampered with an injury in 2009, will add some valuable support at the setter position for the Green and White. Peter, a National Junior College Athletic Association Division II All-American in 2008, recorded 32 assists in her seven sets played in 2009.

"Nicole has a strong fundamental foundation which made her an immediate fit within our program," said George. "Her accuracy and location works well in our system and makes it easy to substitute her in without missing a beat when necessary."

Freshman Kristen Kelsay arrives on campus after being named a 2010 AAU All-American this June. Kelsay was named to the PrepVolleyball.com Senior Aces list prior to her senior year of high school. The Spartans look for Kelsay to gain experience early and often this season.

"I feel that our strong setters will allow us to run either the 5-1 or 6-2 offense at any given time," said George. "With that, it gives us the ability to use some of our strength in our offense and utilize more players from pin-to-pin. We were encouraged after we used the 6-2 for two of our tournaments this spring. We felt the transition was easy and it helped bring some added dimension to the team's game."

Coach George on Kelsay

"We are really excited to have landed Kristen as a Michigan State Spartan. She gives us the option of diversifying our offense, as she will enable us the option of running either the 6-2 or the 5-1 offense. We expect her to come in right away and compete for the starting role, and solidify the position for future. She arrives as a highly recruited setter and she is a student of the game. She is a very consistent and reliable setter, and her skill level is very superior. Her tempo and placement of the ball is very reliable. Kristen has consistently played at a high level and has been challenged. We look for her use that experience to help us as we head into the 2010 season. We aren't the only ones who are excited for her to arrive, but as well as the Honors College as she will participate in its Professorial Assistantship program."

In 2009, the Spartans once again earned a berth in the NCAA Tournament. MSU opened the campaign by winning its first 12 matches of the season - the third-best start to a year all-time and the best since the 1976 season. Along the way to the third NCAA Tournament appearance in the last four seasons, the Green and White posted upset wins over then-No. 12 Southern California in the opening match of the year, as well as then-No. 12 Illinois in the Big Ten home opener. Sophomore Kyndra Abron became the first sophomore in program history to be named an AVCA All-America, earning an honorable mention selection. Abron also was just the third Spartan to earn first-team All-Big Ten honors as a sophomore; Val Sterk - 1994 and Jenna Wrobel - 1996.

After losing 64-percent of the total offense from 2007, George was able to bring in the No. 7 recruiting class in - the best in MSU history - to help shoulder some of the burden and void left by the graduating class. That recruiting class helped George compile a 15-16 overall record in 2008, despite playing five freshmen at a time for most of the season. It was clear that although the record did not reflect it, George may have had one of her finest years as a collegiate coach in 2008.

George spent the spring of 2008 coaching the USA A2 Red team to the USA Adult Open Championship. The USA A2 Red Team topped the University of Washington's Huskies VBC team, 3-1, in Atlanta. George and University of Texas head coach Jerritt Elliott, the A2 Blue coach, conducted training of 20 selected collegiate student-athletes before the championships and split the student-athletes into two teams for competition. George's A2 Red Team took home the gold, while the Blue team finished with the bronze. This was George's second stint with USA Volleyball as she was an assistant coach for the US team at the 1999 World University Games.

George had arguably her best season at MSU in 2007, guiding the Spartans to the NCAA Regional Semifinals and a fifth-place finish in the Big Ten. Overall, MSU went 21-14. The 2007 Spartans entered postseason play in consecutive seasons for the first time since 2002 and 2003. Under George's guidance, senior Ashley Schatzle became the Spartans' seventh AVCA All-American as she led the team that season with 553 kills.

George guided MSU to the 2006 NCAA Tournament in just her second year at the helm of the Spartan program. George led a rebuilding Spartan squad to a 19-12 overall record, including a 10-10 mark in Big Ten play. The Green and White made its first trip to postseason play since the 2003 campaign.

In George's first year as head coach, the Spartans finished the season with a 12-18 record, going 5-15 in conference action. George also saw three Big Ten Player of the Week honorees and two Third-Team 2006 ESPN Magazine Academic All-America Volleyball District IV Team members. Under George, heavy hitter Katie Johnson earned All-Big Ten Honorable Mention honors during the 2005 and 2006 seasons, fellow outside hitter Ashley Schatzle was named to the 2006 First Team All-Big Ten Team, and freshman middle blocker Vanessa King garnered 2006 All-Big Ten Freshman Team accolades. In addition, Johnson competed with the U.S. Women's National Volleyball A2 Program during the summer of 2007.

George was hired as the fifth coach in the history of Michigan State volleyball in December of 2004. George has earned conference coach of the year honors in every league in which she has coached before joining the MSU staff and the Big Ten Conference.

Prior to her hiring at Michigan State, George spent 11 years guiding the Western Michigan University program, where she compiled a 185-139 record. Taking over the reigns at WMU prior to the 1994 season, George's Broncos qualified for eight NCAA Tournament appearances under her direction. George reached eight consecutive MAC Tournaments beginning with the 1997 campaign, and her Bronco squad made back-to-back MAC Tournament title match appearances in 1999 and 2000, capturing the title in 2000.

While at WMU, George's student-athletes earned all-conference and national honors while enjoying academic success. George reached the 300-win mark in 2000, and was named the MAC Coach of the Year that same season after guiding the Broncos to the MAC title. She has also gained international experience as an assistant coach for the 1999 U.S. Team in the World University Games, held in Mallorca, Spain.

Sixteen players earned academic all-conference honors during her time at Western Michigan, while four players were named to the CoSIDA Academic All-District team. Her teams posted grade-point averages of 3.00, or better, and boasted a 100-percent graduation rate in 10 of her 11 seasons.

On the court, George recruited high-caliber student-athletes, as three WMU players trained with various U.S. national teams. In 1999, two players were honored with the chance to compete with the Pan Am Games Training Team, while another Bronco was selected to the 2001 U.S. National A2 team. Western Michigan's success under George led to increased attendance, as the Broncos led the MAC in total attendance in eight of her 11 seasons. She also worked to reinstate the Bronco Spikers' Club, which takes part in activities involving the team throughout the year, including pre-match chalk talks, tailgates and post-match wrap-ups.

Prior to her arrival at Western Michigan, George was the head coach at Texas-Arlington from 1989-1993. She led UTA to the 1989 and 1990 NCAA Tournaments, with a school-record third-place national finish in 1989.

While at Texas-Arlington, George became the first woman to coach in the NCAA Division I Final Four (1989) and she earned Southland Conference Coach of the Year honors three times (1989, 1990, `92) as she posted a record of 93-74 in her five seasons. George's teams won Southland Conference titles in 1989, 1990 and 1992, were 37-4 in conference play (.902) and finished with a 10-2 record in postseason competition during her tenure.

George got her start as a collegiate coach at North Dakota State in 1987-88, leading the Bison to an 87-11 (.888) record in her first two seasons. In 1987, NDSU posted a 44-8 mark en route to a fifth-place finish at the NCAA Division II Championships in her first season as a head coach. She was named North Central Conference and regional coach of the year in both 1987 and 1988 and earned NCAA Division II National Coach of the Year honors in 1988. Also in 1988, George led the Bison to a 43-3 mark and a third-place national finish.

A 1985 graduate of Illinois State, George helped the Redbirds win three consecutive Missouri Valley Conference titles and NCAA Tournament appearances. A team captain and crafty outside attacker, she was a three-time All-MVC selection and earned all-region honors.

George, who earned her master's degree in education from Central Michigan in 1987, and her husband Jerry reside in Okemos, Mich., with their two sons, T.J., 18, and Conner, 13.

Russ Carney

Associate Head Coach • Sixth Season • Ball State '78

Russ Carney is in his sixth season at Michigan State following 11 years at Western Michigan, where he served as an assistant under head coach Cathy George. Carney, was promoted to Associate Head Coach on June 19, 2008.

Carney focuses on recruiting and working with the blockers on the court for the Spartans. Under the guidance of Carney in 2009, Kyndra Abron became the first sophomore in program history to be tabbed as an American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) All-Americn. Abron also earned All-Mideast Region honorable mention as well as first-team All-Big Ten honors. Also, former Spartan Vanessa King is a student-athlete who thrived under the tutelage of Carney. King ended her career ranked as one of the most efficient hitters in school history and was arguably one of the best middle blockers in the Big Ten in 2008. In fact, Carney was a prime reason that King was selected to the All-Big Ten First Team in 2008 and to the All-Big Ten Freshman team in 2006.

Carney's efforts do not stop on the court. Over the last several seasons, Carney has spearheaded the recruitment efforts at Michigan State. He played an instrumental role in assembling the top recruiting class in Michigan State history heading into 2008. He helped recruit Big Ten All-Freshman Team member Natalie Emro and 2009 AVCA All-American Kyndra Abron. He also helped in the signing of Becca Zlabis, who ranks among the MSU freshmen elite in several categories, Carli Weiler - the fourth-ranked libero prospect out of high school - and other additions to the Spartans roster. Those student-athletes, among others, are the reason that MSU's 2007 class was ranked as the seventh-best class in the nation and the top class in the Big Ten.

Carney also coordinates various other coaching duties throughout the season. Working with a state-of-the-art video system, Carney is in charge of scouting and video breakdown of opponents. Carney also helps the student-athletes by serving as the academic coordinator on the coaching staff.

"Russ and I have worked so well together and had great success throughout the past 17 years," said George. "He and I worked together for 11 years at Western Michigan and I really feel that having that kind of continuity is a strength for the Spartan program. I believe we complement each other very well in our coaching styles. We are able to maximize different areas on the bench and in practice."

A Tunkhannock, Pa., native, Carney started his collegiate coaching career as an assistant coach at Kellogg Community College in Battle Creek, Mich., in 1978. He assumed the head coaching duties at KCC in 1980 and promptly guided the Bruins to the National Junior College Athletic Association National Championship that year.

Carney went on to serve as an assistant coach at Wisconsin in 1981 before he was named head coach of the Badgers in 1982, where he remained until 1984. During his stint at Wisconsin, Carney served as head coach of the 1981 U.S. Olympic Festival Men's East Team, guiding that squad to the Gold medal. He was a member of both the NCAA Midwest Regional and Big Ten Conference officiating committees.

A setter in college, Carney attended Kellogg Community College (1973-74) before transferring to Ball State University (1976). He earned a bachelor's degree in physical education from BSU in 1978.

Russ and his wife, Sherry, have a daughter, Jessica, 21, and a son, Branden, 18, and reside in Battle Creek, Mich.

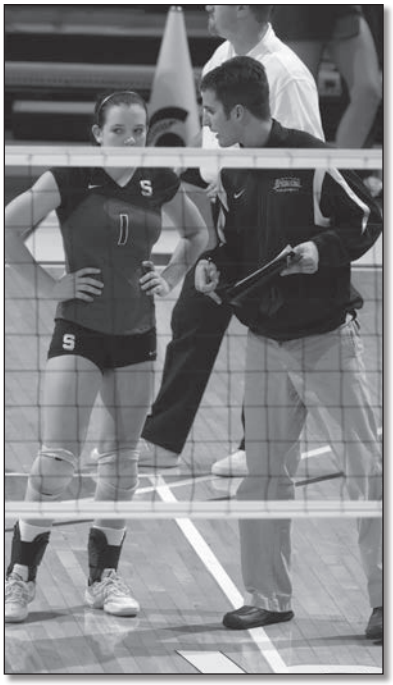
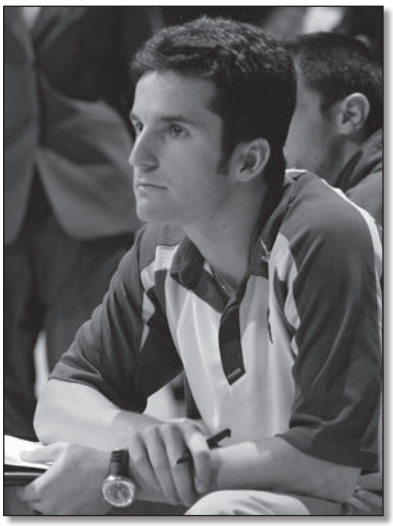
Mike Gawlik

Assistant Coach • Fifth Season • Pacific '05





Mike Gawlik begins his fifth season as an assistant coach and his sixth overall with the Spartan volleyball program. A four-year letterwinner and two-year captain at the University of the Pacific, Gawlik brings six years of competitive coaching experience to George's staff.

In February, Gawlik was named to the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) "Thirty Under 30" list. The award honors 30 up-and-coming volleyball coaches each year, who are under the age of 30, for their hard work and dedication to the sport of volleyball.

Gawlik currently serves as the liaison between the AVCA and the assistant coaches throughout the Big Ten Conference.

Gawlik's primary responsibility is the mentoring of the defensive specialists. As a back-court standout at his alma mater, Pacific, Gawlik has brought his experience and tenacity to Michigan State, both of which have seemed to rub off on the Spartans on the competition floor.

In the past two seasons, Gawlik has been a primary reason for the Spartans' play on the back line, including that of libero Allyson Karaba. After seeing scarce playing time during her freshman year as a walk-on, Gawlik helped the sophomore tally 518 digs on the season, second-most in a single season in school history. She also ranked third in single-season school history with 4.39 digs per set, and she did so with scoring being reduced from 30 points to 25 points per set. Karaba trails only Nicole Colaluca on both lists, an athlete that Gawlik has also mentored in his time at MSU. With Karaba and Carli Weiler returning for her junior season Gawlik will oversee one of the most dynamic backcourts in the nation in 2010.

Gawlik is also very hands-on with each of the student-athletes, competing at practices and using his competitiveness to rally the team. Gawlik often times will train just as hard in practice as the current Spartans, showing a commitment to excellence and a passion for the game. Gawlik will also deal with compiling video and scouting other teams. He also takes time to e-mail and compile a volleyball newsletter each month, so MSU volleyball fans, alumni and parents can follow their Spartans on a regular basis.

"With the addition of Mike to our staff we really feel we can take our program to the next level," George said at the time of his hiring. "Mike has been involved with a wide range of coaching responsibilities during his career, and brings a bright and energetic presence to the bench. He has been very involved with our program's goals and expectations throughout his time at MSU, and I am excited to have such a high-caliber individual on our staff."

Prior to his current capacity at MSU, Gawlik served as a volunteer assistant where he contributed to practice planning, scouting of opponents, and the development of player skills and game preparation. He also plays a significant role as a member of the MSU summer camp staff, assisting with session planning and budget assessment.

Gawlik has coached at collegiate-level volleyball camps, including Michigan State and Nebraska. He also served as a head coach for the Sports Performance Volleyball Club Summer Camp from 2000-04. A four-year starter at the setter and libero positions for the University of Pacific, Gawlik was a 2003 Mountain Pacific Sports Federation All-Conference selection, was named a Strength and Conditioning All-American (2005), and earned the Student of the Year Award (2005) for sports science majors. He holds two school records, including career games played (382) and career digs (849).

Shaylen Jackson

Volunteer Assistant Coach • Second Season • Western Michigan '05

Shaylen Jackson is in her second year with the Michigan State volleyball program after becoming one of the most well-recognized volleyball players in Western Michigan program history after playing under Cathy George for three seasons.

In her first year with MSU, Jackson worked primarily with the middle blockers. Jackson assisted in the development of Alexis Mathews over the course of her red-shirt season and during the spring.

A 2007 graduate, Jackson holds the Western Michigan program records in solo blocks in a five-set match (7), block assists in a five-set match (15), career total blocks (563), and career blocks per game (1.25).

As a 6-1 middle blocker, Jackson helped the Broncos finish third or better in the MAC West in each of her four years with the program, highlighted by an 11-5 mark during her junior and senior seasons. During her senior season, Jackson posted a hitting percentage of .373, which still stands as the best single-season hitting percentage in school history. During her career, Jackson received All-MAC accolades in each of her four seasons, highlighted by All-MAC First Team honors in 2004 and 2005. Jackson was also named All-MAC honorable mention in 2003 and was named to the league's All-Freshman team in 2002.

In addition to her All-MAC honors in 2005, Jackson was also an AVCA All-Region honorable mention selection that year, helping the Broncos to a 20-9 mark, their highest win total at the time since 2000. She was also an AVCA Honorable Mention All-Region selection in 2003. Jackson ended her career fifth on WMU's kills list with 1,257. Jackson also holds the MAC single-match record with a 1.000 hitting percentage on 11 successful attempts becoming the first MAC player ever to achieve that goal based on 10 or more attempts.

Upon her graduation, Jackson worked with InterVarsity Christian Fellowship at Western Michigan and was responsible for leadership development, discipleship, and small group training. InterVarsity Christian Fellowship is an evangelical campus mission that serves more than 32,000 students and faculty on more than 550 college and university campuses nationwide.

Carmen Jones

Director of Volleyball Operations • Second Season

Carmen Jones enters her second full season with the Spartan volleyball team as Director of Volleyball Operations. Jones brings with her more than 15 years of sales, marketing and operations management experience to the volleyball staff.

Jones joined the Michigan State volleyball program in 2008 in a volunteer capacity as a manager, before being named interim Director of Volleyball Operations midway through the season. Upon moving to the East Lansing area four years ago, she quickly involved herself in the local volleyball community by coaching at the local high school then serving as assistant coach at Lansing Community College in 2007. She worked two years as the Lakeshore USAV Tournament Coordinator, is currently assistant director of Lansing Area Volleyball Association, a local volleyball club, and continues to work with local area youth volleyball teams.

Along with her retired Army veteran husband, Mick, she resides in Grand Ledge with son Kile (18). The couple also has a son, Nathan (29), and a daughter, Teresa (23), as well as three grandchildren, Trent (9), Zachary (8) and Emily (7), all whom currently reside in Seattle, Wash.

Lianna Hadden

Athletic Trainer • 12th Season

Lianna Hadden is in her 12th year on the MSU athletic training staff and her 10th year of working with the volleyball squad. Hadden, a native of Three Oaks, Mich., received her bachelor's degree in exercise science from Western Michigan University in 1998, with a minor in biomedical science and an emphasis in athletic training. She completed her master of science degree in kinesiology with a specialization in athletic training in 2000 at Michigan State.

"Lianna's knowledge on injury prevention, nutrition and her overall approach to the student-athletes is such an important aspect of our success," head coach Cathy George said. "She really has become like a family member to all of the athletes that have come through Michigan State. "

Hadden has volunteered annually since 1996 for the Special Olympics and has also helped with the Michigan Blind Sports Camps. She is married to Brian Hadden, and the couple has three-year-old twins, Maeve and Asher.

Injuries are a part of sports – they come with any physical activity. The capable hands of the Michigan State sports medicine staff assist student-athletes with injuries incurred throughout their time of competition at Michigan State.

The philosophy of the Sports Medicine staff is two-fold: to help prevent injuries as much as possible through effective preventative programs, and to facilitate an effective rehabilitation program after an injury. In all cases, the ultimate well-being of each individual student-athlete is the top priority.

Hadden travels with the team to each away match and spends countless hours helping ensure the physical well-being of each player. With the ability to monitor each individual athletes needs, Hadden has developed into someone that both the student-athletes and coaching staff have come to trust and respect.

Tim "Red" Wakeham

Strength and Conditioning • 15th Season

Tim "Red" Wakeham, M.S., S.C.C.C, C.S.C.S., is the Coordinator of Strength and Conditioning/Olympic Sports. Wakeham is beginning his 15th year leading the strength and conditioning program for the Spartan volleyball team.

Wakeham is a well-known speaker throughout the country and an established author, having had more than 25 articles published in various national publications along with three book chapters. He also has experience at the NFL, NHL and Olympic levels.

Wakeham will also work with the volleyball team throughout the summer to make sure that the team is in match-ready shape for the rigors of the Big Ten season-.

The Spartan training program enhances explosive power and speed while reducing the incidence and severity of injuries. The strength staff's "neck-down" training and "neck-up" motivating provide the optimal environment for the creation of healthy, powerful and determined athletes who have one focus - winning a Big Ten Conference Championship.

Wakeham runs a summer conditioning program that is next to none in order to prepare student-athletes for the physical demands of volleyball in the Big Ten Conference. Wakeham uses a state-of-the-art weight training facility that features some of the finest equipment around. With plenty of free weights and apparatuses, Wakeham is able to help student-athletes achieve new heights in strength and muscle tone, leaping and attack ability along with adding great flexibility and improving recovery time.

The 2009 volleyball team made history as it began the season with the third longest win streak in program history, winning the first 13 matches. Although they were plagued by several injuries throughout the season, the Spartans wound up in the 2009 NCAA Tournament for the third time in the last four seasons. Several members of the roster made their way into school history as several school records and program firsts were achieved. The Spartans were one of six conference teams to make the postseason tournament. MSU finished the season with a record of 17-16.

Vanessa King was eighth in blocks per set (1.05), while Mischelle Nelson was seventh in hitting percentage (.328).

• The Spartans ended the year No. 14, and were one of six Big Ten schools ranked in the top 25, of the NCAA volleyball attendance rankings. MSU saw 26,092 fans attend its home matches. Michigan State has been in the top-25 every year dating back to 1995.

• MSU had two Spartans receive Big Ten weekly laurels. Sophomore Kyndra Abron was named Offensive Player of the Week following her performance at the MSU Showcase, and junior Allyson Karaba was named Defensive Player of the Week after her performance at the Clemson Classic.

• Sophomore Natalie Emro moved into fifth all-time in career assists with 2,544. Junior Allyson Karaba also moved into second all-time in digs per set with 3.78.

• MSU began the year by winning its sixth consecutive MSU Showcase after defeating Southern California, Albany and North Carolina. Against Albany in the second match of the weekend, MSU, as a team, posted a .587 hitting percentage, a program high. Also, the 48 total points conceded are the fewest points the Spartans have allowed since the inception of the 25-point scoring system.

• The Spartans opened the 2009 campaign in stellar fashion as they topped then-No. 12 Southern California in the first match of the MSU Showcase. MSU topped the Trojans by a score of 3-2. After falling in set one, 23-25, the Green and White stormed back in the second and third sets to gain the 2-1 advantage, 27-25, 25-18. The Spartans dropped the fourth set, 22-25, before clinching the match in set five, 15-8.

• The Spartans beat their second 12th-ranked team when they topped then-No. 12 Illinois in the Big Ten home opener, 3-2. MSU got out early on the Fighting Illini, picking up the 25-20 set one victory. Illinois, however, came back to take the next two sets from the Spartans, 20-25 and 24-26. The Green and White closed out the match with two close set wins, 28-26 and 15-10.

• MSU extended its Halloween day success when it topped Wisconsin, 3-0, to bring the win streak to five straight matches won on Halloween.

• MSU had seven different members to all-tournament teams in 2009 - Kyndra Abron, Natalie Emro and Megan Schatzle (MSU Showcase), Allyson Karaba, Vanessa King and Megan Schatzle (CSU Invitational), Emro and Mischelle Nelson (UIC Invite) and Jenilee Rathje, Emro and Allyson Karaba (Clemson Classic). MSU saw MVP honors at all four tournaments - Abron (MSU Showcase), Allyson Karaba (CSU Invitational), Emro (UIC Invite) and Rathje (Clemson Classic).

Lou Anna K. Simon, Ph.D.
President
Michigan State University

Lou Anna K. Simon is the 20th president of Michigan State University, leading the university in advancing the common global good. Her commitment to applying knowledge to benefit society is reflected in her key initiatives and detailed in Embracing the World Grant Ideal: Affirming the Morrill Act for a Twenty-first-century Global Society, a monograph available online at worldgrantideal.msu.edu.

Simon has a distinguished history with Michigan State University, from earning her doctorate in administration and higher education from MSU in 1974 to her appointment as president by the MSU Board of Trustees in January 2005.

Simon's dedication to advancing Michigan's economic future has been a hallmark of her presidency. She is a member of the Michigan Strategic Economic Investment and Commercialization Board and serves on the board of directors for Business Leaders for Michigan and for Prima Civitas, mid-Michigan's economic development foundation. She also has led MSU's participation in the University Research Corridor, a partnership with the University of Michigan and Wayne State University, to improve Michigan's economy through innovation, technology transfer, and education.

Under Simon's leadership, in 2009, MSU opened its Detroit Center, a 22,000-square-foot facility to foster and to enhance 21st-century learning and partnerships that will serve as catalysts for future prosperity. To address the state's physician shortage, MSU's Colleges of Human Medicine and Osteopathic Medicine have expanded to Grand Rapids, Detroit, and Macomb County, which has doubled MSU's medical student enrollment. For her support of medical advancement, the Michigan Health Information Technology Commission awarded Simon its 2010 Leadership Award.

Simon also has helped extend MSU's reach in the nation and around the world. She is a member of the Council on Competitiveness, a nonpartisan, nongovernmental organization working to ensure U.S. prosperity; the board of directors for the American Council on Education; and the executive committee of the Partnership to Cut Hunger and Poverty in Africa.

Under Simon's tenure, MSU received more than $400 million in externally sponsored research in 2008–09. In the past two years, MSU was chosen by the U.S. Department of Energy as the site for the approximately $600-million Facility for Rare Isotope Beams and selected by IBM to host a global application development center. The university opened the Energy and Automotive Research Laboratories and was named one of the nation's top five campuses for sustainability by the National Wildlife Federation. MSU leads U.S. public universities in study abroad participation, ranks among the nation's top 10 public universities for international student enrollment, and is the sixth largest all-time producer of Peace Corps volunteers.

Athletics Director Mark Hollis

"We gather and engage our community to teach, support and celebrate our student-athletes in their quest for excellence."

This is the vision Mark Hollis has for the Michigan State athletics department. A Michigan State graduate and veteran Spartan athletics administrator, Hollis assumed the role of MSU's 18th athletics director on Jan. 1, 2008, succeeding Ron Mason. Hollis was named athletics director-designate on Sept. 12, 2007, and teamed with Mason in the transition throughout the fall of 2007.

Hollis has more than 20 years of athletics administration experience, either at the school or conference level. His well-rounded background has led to his knowledge of all areas within an athletics department, including marketing, financial administration, television negotiations, fund-raising, game operations, facility management, personnel policy, corporate interaction, sports management and public relations.

Hollis, a 1985 MSU graduate, returned to his alma mater in 1995. Since then, he has been a critical component of the athletic department executive management staff, helping guide the department through short- and long-range plans.

On the playing field, Michigan State proved again in 2009-10 to be one of the most consistent athletic departments in the country, finishing 39th in the Learfield Sports Directors' Cup standings, marking the 11th time in the past 12 years the department has placed in the top 40. Highlights included the men's basketball team advancing to the Final Four for the sixth time in the last 12 years and winning its second straight Big Ten regular-season title, field hockey capturing both the Big Ten regular season and tournament championships, and the football team appearing in its third straight bowl game. Overall, 11 sports participated in their respective team NCAA Championships, while individuals competed in four more NCAA Championships.

One of Hollis' major goals upon becoming athletics director was accomplished this past spring when he unveiled the new brand and identity program for the athletics department. All of Michigan State's uniforms now incorporate consistent use of colors, logos, lettering and numerals along with standardization for logos. Throughout the project, equal attention was devoted to maintaining an appreciation for the traditions of the past, while positioning the athletics program for the future. The brand and identity program for Michigan State Athletics was a result of nearly a two-year collaborative effort between the athletics department and Nike that included input from university and athletic administration, coaches, and student-athletes.

During Hollis' tenure, Michigan State student-athletes have excelled not only in competition, but in the classroom as well. In 2009-10, Spartan student-athletes posted 3.0 or higher semester GPAs in record numbers, as a school-record 365 student-athletes achieved that mark in the spring semester, breaking the previous record of 356 which was set just the previous semester in the fall. Additionally, 224 student-athletes earned Academic All-Big Ten honors throughout the academic year. In 2008-09, the department posted the highest cumulative GPA in program history at 3.0052 for the second consecutive year; it also marked the first time the department has ever had back-to-back years with a cumulative GPA of over a 3.0, as the 3.0038 GPA in 2007-08 set the previous record. The department also set another record in 2008-09 as 13 teams achieved a 3.0 or higher term GPA during the spring semester.

In Hollis' first full season as athletics director in 2008-09, Michigan State enjoyed one of its most successful years of the decade with a 27th-place finish in the Directors' Cup, the best showing for the department since 2003 and the third highest in the department's history. Ten teams earned bids to their respective NCAA Championships, led by the men's basketball team, which reached the national title game against North Carolina while also winning the Big Ten regular-season championship. In addition, the football team won nine games for the first time since 1999 and played on New Year's Day in the 2009 Capital One Bowl, the men's soccer team won the Big Ten regular season and tournament championships, and the crew team won its second straight Big Ten title. Individually, wrestler Franklin Gomez claimed the 133-pound national title.

During the spring semester of Hollis' first year as athletics director in 2008, six winter and spring sports garnered team berths to the NCAA Championships, while individuals saw action in four more NCAA Championships. The men's golf and women's rowing teams claimed Big Ten Championships and the men's basketball program reached the Sweet 16 for the seventh time in 11 years. This success propelled Michigan State to 29th in the Directors' Cup standings.

Prior to his official appointment as athletics director, Hollis played a lead role in two significant head coaching searches during the 2006-07 year. He spearheaded the effort to hire Mark Dantonio as football coach, which has resulted in three consecutive bowl appearances for the program, including a bid to the 2009 Capital One Bowl. He also provided major assistance in the hiring of women's basketball coach Suzy Merchant in the spring of 2007, who led the Spartans to the Sweet 16 in 2009. Hollis' first hire as athletics director arrived on July 2, 2008, when he tabbed Jake Boss Jr. to direct the Spartan baseball program.

Spartan athletic facilities have been upgraded at an unprecedented rate the past decade, and will only continue to improve under Hollis. In August 2008, the Spartans moved into one of the nation's finest football facilities, as a $15 million expansion and renovation project for the Duffy Daugherty Football Building was completed. MSU alumni Robert and Julie Skandalaris of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., donated $5 million as the lead gift for the facility expansion and upgrade. The Skandalaris Football Center includes new team, staff and position meeting rooms, coaches' offices and a hall of history. In addition, an expanded weight room was finished in September 2008 that increased the facility in size from 9,000 to 16,500-square feet. Also in 2008, the men's and women's soccer programs opened DeMartin Stadium, a state-of-the-art 2,500-seat facility that enables MSU to host conference and national tournaments. In spring 2009, the baseball program played its inaugural season in McLane Baseball Stadium following a $4 million donation to the 2,500-seat ballpark by Houston Astros owner Drayton McLane Jr., and a new softball stadium is scheduled to be completed in spring 2010.

As a senior associate athletics director, Hollis oversaw all external relations for the MSU athletics department. Included in this group are marketing and promotions, community relations, special-event fund-raising, sports information, ticket operations, spirit groups, broadcast services and corporate sponsorships. He also had sports management supervision of the men's basketball program, while also supervising the cheerleading, dance team and band programs.

Hollis has been recognized by his peers as one of the best in the business. In 2002, he was named recipient of the National Marketer of the Year Award as selected by the National Association of Collegiate Marketing Administrators (NACMA). Under his direction, Michigan State has enjoyed increases in ticket revenues, including nine years of sold-out football seasons and nearly 200 consecutive sellouts in men's basketball. He was successful in negotiating a $2 million donation to the university for the construction of the Berkowitz Basketball Complex, providing both the men's and women's basketball programs with one the nation's top office complexes.

One of Hollis' greatest strengths is his ability to "dream big" in an effort to create greater exposure, not just for the Michigan State Athletics Department but for Michigan State University as a whole. He conceptualized "The BasketBowl," establishing a world-record attendance of 78,129 for a basketball game between Michigan State and Kentucky at Detroit's Ford Field. The concept of placing the court in the middle of the field in a domed stadium was used by the NCAA at the 2009 Final Four in Ford Field. Michigan State University earned net revenues of $1 million from the event. Similarly, he executed the "Cold War" ice hockey game between Michigan State and Michigan, drawing a then-world record crowd of 74,554 to an outdoor hockey game in Spartan Stadium.

On Oct. 13, 2005, Michigan State University and WJR - 760 AM announced a five-year agreement to carry Spartan football and men's basketball games, along with coaches' radio shows. The successful partnership led to the announcement on Jan. 19, 2010, of a 10-year extension through 2020. Hollis played a leading role in finding MSU athletics a home on the 50,000-watt Detroit radio station, known as the "Great Voice of the Great Lakes." The agreement has benefited more than just athletics as WJR regularly promotes the academic accomplishments of the university in addition to broadcasting sporting events.

His creativity and negotiation skills have helped Michigan State enhance its postseason bowl appearances in a very competitive environment. During his time at MSU, the Spartans have appeared in the Alamo Bowl twice, including 2010, along with the Capital One Bowl, Champs Sports Bowl, Citrus Bowl, Aloha Bowl, Sun Bowl, Independence Bowl and the Silicon Valley Football Classic. He is also a key component during men's basketball postseason play, having been a part of 13 straight trips to the NCAA Tournament and six Final Fours, handling many operational logistics.

In this era of college athletics, Hollis also excels in his relations with corporate partners. During his time guiding the office, the athletic department's annual sponsorship revenue billing increased from $350,000 to nearly $3 million. He developed an innovative sponsorship relationship with Nike for footwear, apparel and licensing resulting in cash payments to the university and product for all athletic programs. He negotiated sponsorship agreements with major corporations such as General Motors, Pepsi, LaSalle Bank and Farm Bureau Insurance. In total, Hollis and his staff managed more than 100 corporate sponsor accounts for the department.

Hollis also understands the importance of television broadcasts and other multi-media outlets for promoting the athletic department and the University. Through a combination of innovative strategies and personal relationships with ESPN, ABC and CBS television, he has increased Michigan State's television exposure by 60 percent for football and men's basketball. His background in the field allows Hollis to better understand how to use the emerging Big Ten Network to provide national television exposure for each one of MSU's varsity sports, and how to combine athletics with the academic mission of the university. Understanding the importance of the Internet in today's world, he negotiated an Internet agreement that has MSU ranked consistently in the national top 20 with nearly 1.7 million page views monthly.

Prior to returning to Michigan State, Hollis spent two years at the University of Pittsburgh as assistant and associate athletic director. While at Pitt, he directed the operations for external affairs, game management and facilities, while also managing the day-to-day operations and budget of the football and men's basketball programs. In just two years, he developed the department's facility master plan, including a $7 million renovation of Pitt Stadium, and initiated the first corporate sponsor program.

Before his stint at Pitt, Hollis worked for the Western Athletic Conference. He joined the WAC as an administrative assistant immediately after college. Two years later, he was appointed assistant to the commissioner and soon thereafter was promoted to assistant commissioner. As assistant commissioner, Hollis was responsible for all aspects of the budget, financial management, corporate sponsorships, promotions, personnel policies, conference tournaments, basketball officiating and general administrative duties. He coordinated relationships with postseason bowl games and television entities, resulting in significant increases in bowl appearances by conference teams.

Hollis earned his bachelor of arts degree in communication from Michigan State in 1985, where he served as a basketball team manager under Jud Heathcote. In 1992, he earned his MBA in business administration from the University of Colorado.

He and his wife Nancy, have a daughter, Katy, and two sons, T.R. and Michael.
